Our Voices Are Valuable

Money and resources

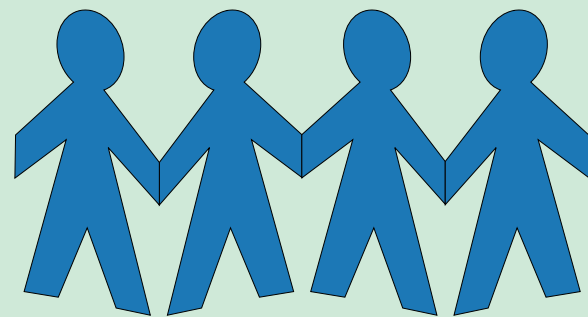

Mental Health

The Environment

The issues we care most about are...

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

Education

The media

Young People's Board for Change

More information and support on the cost of living crisis

Keyworkers getting paid fairly

Education being more accessible across the UK, e.g. free tuition fees in Scotland

Money and resources

Affordable accommodation for students

Access to enough food e.g. every child in the UK having access to breakfast in school

Better youth spaces for young people to help stay off the streets and reduce crime

Young People's Board for Change

Information and support for mental health after lockdown such as social anxiety

Funding for better mental health resources

Information about different types of mental health issues like eating disorders or autistic burnout

Support to know who to talk to if you are struggling e.g. if you are being bullied

Mental Health

Access to resources and positive role models. More awareness of different ways to get support like messaging on Childline

Young People's Board for Change

More support for climate anxiety and the blame young people feel

Planting trees and the use of renewable resources

The Environment

Climate change and making sustainable choices

Young People's Board for Change

Support for people who work with children about neurodiversity and mental health

More awareness and resources about BSL in education

More awareness of invisible disabilities and physical accessibility

Help to create a culture of diversity in education to tackle prejudice

Equal opportunities in everyday life

Accessible resources for people who are neurodiverse or have different learning styles

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

Learning more about race like Black history in the curriculum all year around

Young People's Board for Change

Focused paths in education - learn what you need to know!

Update education system, e.g. exams don't work for everyone, we want options.

Education

Better support for staff in schools, so they can support students

Make sure spaces like dance schools, sports clubs and youth hubs are registered and regulated like schools!

Curriculum does not speak to young people e.g. how we interact with the world around us, survive and thrive!!

One way of learning does not work for everyone, education is not just at school

Trauma informed education for schools to support students & educate adults on issues we face

Our Goals

-  Have a role in NSPCC decisions
-  Help upskill staff and volunteers to provide the best service to young people
-  Make sure young people are listened to and taken seriously by NSPCC staff
-  Improve and create new NSPCC services in our local areas
-  Campaign for change on topics we care about, including:

Money and resources

Mental Health

The Environment

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

Education

The media

What's next?

-  Attend a trustee board meeting to talk about what we are working on and share a young person's perspective on NSPCC's work
-  Steer, advise and influence NSPCC teams on issues that affect children and young people in the UK
-  Support staff and volunteers in the developing, running and evaluating services and programmes to make sure we continue meeting the needs of young people
-  Ask Childline to make more advice or content around topics that we care about
-  Create content for Childline and NSPCC media talking about topics that matter to young people
