

Enterprising business project

An activity by Emmanuel Asuquo, Expert Financial Advisor and Number Day Ambassador

Hi, my name is Emmanuel Asuquo, Eman for short.

I'm a MONEY MAN (also known as a financial advisor). It's my job to help people make good choices about their money. You might have even seen me on the TV talking about money and helping people work out how to spend it, save it, and grow it.

Today we're celebrating Number Day, and I have a great activity for you and your friends to take part in.

Activity

1. Split into teams between five to eight classmates.
2. Each team has £500,000 to create a business.
3. Decide on a business name, location, and what you will sell, make, or distribute.
4. How will you split any profits?

Big ideas, bigger budgets!
